

CANDE SIG Business Meeting

March 7, 2017

Members' feedback on CANDE communications and website:

- Not much direct feedback on this. Most comments are suggestions for additional ways to communicate and/or build community. (below)

Members' feedback on CANDE topics for potential coverage in sessions in future meetings:

- Topic: Race in citizenship education
- Topic: The resident alien as citizens in schools
- Topic: Meaning across contexts—e.g., what does citizenship mean in multiple contexts?
- Topic: How to inform teacher education programs and/or how to directly inform teachers. Are we interested in venturing outside “safe” academic environments?
- Potential workshop topic: Citizenship and belonging in an age of migration
- Potential workshop topic: Learning assessment in citizenship education
- Potential workshop topic: Citizenship education in the context of growing economic inequality
- Potential workshop topic: Constructs and what matters: civic engagement, competence, identity, purpose, mindedness, knowledge, attitudes; pedagogies; methods and assessments.
- Potential workshop topic: Twitter fountain; today.meet.com, socrative.com- interaction [Sorry whoever wrote this, I do not think I understood this one!???]

Members' feedback on “other” CANDE events:

Sharing contacts, resources, and networking within CANDE

- Email list of CANDE members
- Member list with bios and research interests, contact info, etc.
- Sharing contacts with research interests
- Encouraging/ supporting opportunities for co-researching and coauthoring possibilities
- Collaborative data analysis
- Conducting a comparative study all over the world on citizenship education in members' countries
- Virtual writing groups
- Edited volume with selected presentations featured after CIES

Mentorship-specific

- Resources for research grants
- Better coordination of new scholars with CANDE SIG and doing so earlier in the CIES meeting

Business meeting

- Business meeting dialogue(s): Current political climate discussion was great—more would be great too
